L. J. FARMER'S

New Catalog and Price List

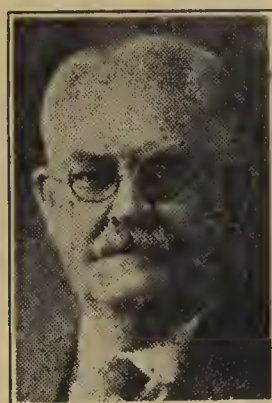

Black and White Strawberries, Photographed July 17th

To Our Customers and Friends;

We have been engaged in the Fruit and Nursery Business for 56 years. We are willing to impart to our customers, anything we have learned in all this time. Come and let's talk it over, or write us freely about your problems. We may be able to give you information about varieties and methods, that will be worth much more to you than you pay us for the goods.

We have a large fine stock of everything in the Nursery Line; but, on account of the high cost of issuing a large, colored catalogue, we are sending out just this modest price list. We could fill it with nice letters of commendation from those who have been pleased with our stock in the past. Nearly every day, someone comes into our office and tells of their parents or grandparents, having purchased stock of us, 40 or more years ago.

At It Fifty-six Years

If you want first class plants, shrubs, trees, etc., true to name, and put up in the best possible shape for shipping, send your order to us. It will be appreciated and you will get real service.

Yours for results,

L. J. Farmer, Fragaria Nurseries.

LETTERS FROM CUSTOMERS

Ithaca, N. Y. Nov. 3rd, 1938
We have sold $78.00 worth of gourds from the two rows 400 ft. long. We have quite a quantity left and hope to run the sales up to $100.00. Can you put me in touch with some ornamental corn, the corn with a great variety of colors? I saw some at a florists. A week ago Saturday, we picked 25 qts. of very nice strawberries, for which we received 40c per qt. From a half acre of Gem (everbearing strawberries) we have picked $221.00 worth of berries, since August 1st, besides $50.00 worth, picked in July. Total from the half acre, $271.00.

Yours truly,
Inlet Valley Farms Inc,
per B. N. Millard

Luthersburg, Pa., 12-23 38
I am an old customer of yours and would like to get your catalogue. I have your book "Farmer on the Strawberry" and learned much from it. If you, Mr. Plum (L. J.) Farmer are still alive, I would like to write you about my success in growing strawberries.

A. A. Shafer

(Note In answer to above, I am still alive at this writing (Feb. 22nd. 1938) I will be 73, May 1st, 1939. Lawrence J. Farmer (Plum Farmer).

VALUABLE PLANTS, ETC. FREE

Every order amounting to $2.00 or more, will be entitled to free plants, bulbs, etc., selected by our L. J. Farmer.

Xtralate, v. l. Large, productive and fine for market. 25, 30c; 100, 75c; 1000, $6.00.

Black and White Strawberries, v. l. The white variety is a dull white, the sweetest strawberry we ever tasted. The black variety is very firm, extra large, nearly black, fine flavored and the best canning berry we know. When shown together, the contrast is striking. Sold only in combination. 1/3 white and 2/3 black. Price, - 10, 60c; 25, $1.25; 100, $4.00.

Fall or Everbearing Varieties

Gem. This is the most practical of the everbearing kinds. It is of good size, very productive, fine looking and ripens all of its fall crop. 25, 50c; 100, $1.50; 1000, $10.00.

Berri-Supreme. This is a comparatively new variety from the West. The plants are very healthy, large and vigorous. Berries very large, larger even than Mastodon and sell for the highest prices. 25, 75c; 100, $2.00; 1000, $15.00.

Mastodon. The old favorite fall bearing strawberry. Large, of good flavor. Produces an immense crop of berries which do not always ripen up, in the fall. It seems to be slipping with us. 25, 50c; 100, $1.50; 1000, $10.00.

Wayzata. Seems to do best in the middle West. Not adapted to our conditions. 25, $1.00; 100, $3.50.

Lucky Strike, 25, 50c; 100, $1.50.

Transplanted Strawberry Plants. Best for setting in late May, June, July and August, 50c per 100, in addition to above prices for field plants.

Herbert. From Canada, very hardy, productive. Same price as Chief.

Cuthbert. The old stand by. Finest quality but sometimes subject to disease. Price, same as Chief.

St. Regis. Plants vigorous. Berries medium sized, produced very early and bears again in the fall. Price same as Chief.

Latham. Most profitable to grow for market. Plants vigorous and enormously productive of fine looking large berries, but very inferior in flavor. Will sell in preference to better flavored kinds. Price, same as Chief.

June. Very early, fine for home use and nearby early market. Fruit soft, but of fine flavor. 1 yr, 10, 50c; 25, $1.00; 100 $3.50; 1000, $30.00. 2 yr Trans. 10, 75c; 25, $1.50; 100, $5.00; 1000, $45.00.

Viking. Our favorite red raspberry. Plants are very vigorous, hardy, very productive and healthy. Berries large, fine flavored, firm and attractive. Price, same as June.

Newburgh. Plant dwarfish and must have good care and proper fertilizing. Berries, very large, attractive and sell best in market. A wonderful berry where it succeeds. Price, same as June.

La France. A very large attractive dark red berry grown on long canes, but must be pollinated with St. Regis, in order to fruit in the fall. Price, 1 yr, 10, 75c; 25, $1.50; 100, $5.00; 2 yr Transplants, 10, $1.25; 25 $2.00; 100 $7.50.

Golden Queen. The finest flavored of all raspberries. Fine for home use, but does not sell well in market, for most people want a red berry. It is an albino of Cuthbert, but of even better flavor. Price, same as LaFrance.

Taylor. The new N. Y. Agr. Exp. Station production. Canes very vigorous productive. Berries very large, bright colored and attractive. Will sell for the very highest prices in market. Flavor, only ordinary, quite acid. Price, 1 yr. 10, 75c; 25, $1.25; 100, $4.25; 1000, $38.00. Transplants, 10, $1.00, 25, $1.75; 100, $6.50.

Marcy. Stockier cane than Taylor, Berry larger, a little firmer and of better flavor than Taylor. Price, same as Taylor.

Indian Summer. Vastly superior to any everbearing raspberry, very productive, large and of fine appearance, 1 yr, 10, $1.00; 25, $2.00; 100, $7.50. Trans. 10, $1.25; 25, $2.50; 100, $8.50.

Black Raspberries

Plum Farmer. Introduced by us many years ago. Still the standard black raspberry in most sections. Early large, grayish black, very productive, fine flavored. No. 1 tips (1 yr). 10, 40c; 25, 75c; 100, $2.50; 1000, $22.00. 2 yr. Transplants, 10, 75c; 25, $1.50; 100, $5.00; 1000, $42.00. Full size fruiting plants, 10, $1.25; 25, $2.25; 100, $7.50; 1000, $60.00.

Logan. Good grower, fine for market. Price, same as Plum Farmer.

Blue Ribbon. New. Can be best described as a magnified Plum Farmer. Price, 1 yr. tips, 10, 75c; 25, $1.50; 100, $5.00; 2 yr. Trans. 10, $1.00; 25, $2.00; 100, $7.50. Full size, fruiting plants, 10, $1.50; 25, $2.75; 100, $10.00.

Blue or Purple Raspberries

Columbian. Canes very vigorous and productive. Possibly the most productive raspberry ever grown, except Sodus. Fruit very large, firm and of unusually fine flavor. Fine for home use and canning. Usually five times as productive as most red raspberries. Price.- 10, 75c; 25, $1.25; 100, $3.00; 1000, $25.00. 2 yr. Trans.-10, $1.00; 25, $2.00; 100, $6.00; 1000, $50.00. Full size, bearing plants, 10, $1.25; 25, $2.50; 100, $7.50.

Royal Purple. Very similar to Columbian but more adapted to a wider range of conditions. Cane smooth, with no spines. Berries darker than Columbian, considered better flavored and picks easily. 1 yr. tips, 10, $1.00; 25, $2.00, 100, $7.50. 2 yr. Trans. 10, $1.50; 25, $2.50; 100, $8.00. Large full size plants, 10, $2.00; 25, $3.50.

Sodus. The new Experiment Station berry. In cane, a magnified Columbian, as productive or more so than Columbian ever was. Berries larger than Columbian, very attractive, but not quite as fine flavored. It appears to me to be the coming purple raspberry. 1 yr. tip plants, 10, 75c; 25, $1.25; 100, $4.50; 1000, $35.00. 2 yr. Transplants, 10, $1.00; 25, $1.75; 100, $6.50; 1000, $45.00.

BETTER BE SAFE THAN SORRY

I have purchased roses at Department Stores in cities several times. In spite of my knowledge and experience, I have never been able to make one start and grow, they all "fade away" and die.

L. J. Farmer.

I Got It of Farmer

As one goes through the gardens and plantings of people who love flowers, plants, vines, shrubs, trees, etc.: we often hear some one say: "Where did you get that beautiful thing?" The answer, very frequently, in some places, almost invariably is, "I got it of L. J. Farmer." This is one of the most satisfying things about the nursery business, the fact that we handle things that make for beauty and so much pleasure everywhere. Very few nurserymen ever got very rich in earthly goods, the opportunities they have to show their generosity and public spirit are so many, that it takes away whatever small profits their business may show at the end of each year, but then, we cannot take material things with us when we go and what is the use?

VISIT NATURAL BRIDGE

Natural Bridge, one of the natural wonders of N. Y. State, is 10 miles from Carthage on the road to Harrisville and Star Lake. For quite a distance, the stream runs under a rock, over which the highway passes. Boats carry tourists into this natural cavern for a nominal fee. Just beyond the bridge is Hillside Cemetery, on the right. During the last days of October and up to Thanksgiving Day last year, 1938, we delivered 11 truck loads of evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs, and landscaped this cemetery. Be sure to stop and look it over. What we did for the people of Natural Bridge we will be pleased to do for you.

Germantown, Md., Nov. 2nd, 1938

I bought 2000 strawberry plants (Berris-Supreme) of you last spring. They are wonderful and still bearing fruit.

G. C. Snyder

Lacona, Oswego Co., N. Y., Oct. 3rd, 1938

Inclosed is $5.00 currency. Please send me 1, 12ft. Norway Maple and 10 2 ft. Jap. Barberry. The trees we set last spring are all doing fine, and we are well pleased with them.

(Miss) Anna LaCelle

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Oct. 15th, 1938

The dwarf apple trees which I purchased from you 6 or 7 years ago have grown into a nice little orchard, which has a good crop of apples every year. I have many people admire my orchard and I always give them your name. Every tree that I bought from you lived and was true to its name.

D. R. Hallock

Plymouth, Ohio, Sept. 10th, 1938

Can you supply scions of the following apples ———? I had good results with scions I bought of you several years ago.

HOW TO GROW DAHLIAS

The Dahlia is of about the same nature as potatoes, so far as culture and after care of the roots or bulbs. The plants and tubers (roots or bulbs) freeze even more easily than potatoes. On a large scale, we plow furrows about 3 to 5 feet apart, about 6 to 10 inches deep and drop the tubers in the bottom of the furrow, about 1 ft. apart, covering so the furrow is filled. On a small scale, we dig a trench or holes and plant the same way. After the plants come up, we hoe and cultivate them, same as potatoes. We get the best results, if we do not trim the growth any. To get the largest blooms, it is necessary to remove the side shoots and confine the plant's energies to making one large blossom. Sometimes we nip the top of the plant, when it is 4 to 6 inches above the ground, causing it to branch like a tree, and therefore to grow not so high. The tubers should be dug before the ground freezes in the fall and stored in a cool dry place. The Dahlia tuber looks much like a sweet potato, but does not have eyes all over the tuber, like potatoes. There is a nub or projection on one end of the tuber, containing a portion of last year's blooming stalk. On this nub or projection is the eye (hardly discernable) which produces the blooming stalk for the year it is planted. Small tubers are just as good as large ones, as it is the healthy, vigorous "eye" that counts. Early blooming dahlias are not as pretty or satisfactory as those that bloom late, after the fall rains come frequently, so we plant most of our Dahlias about June 1st or even later. Be careful to not break the nub from the tuber.
